welcome to the advanced workshop on content computing 2004 the focus of this workshop was content computing it emphasized research areas that facilitate efficient appropriate dissemination of content to users with the necessary access rights we use the word content instead of information or data because we want to cover not only raw data but also presentation quality the fast growth of the internet has already made it the key infrastructure for information dissemination education business and entertainment while the client server model has been the most widely adopted paradigm for the www the desire to provide more value added services in the delivery layer has led to the concept of an active network where content driven intelligent computation will be performed to provide quality of service for content presentation and best t client demand these value added services typically aim to enhance information security provide pervasive internet access and improve application robustness system network performance knowledge extraction etc they are realized by incorporating sophisticated mechanisms at the delivery layer which is transparent to the content providers and surfers consequently the notion of content computing has emerged content computing is a new paradigm for coordinating distributed systems and intelligent networks based on a peer to peer model and with value added processing of the application specific contents at the livery layer this paradigm is especially useful to pervasive lightweight client devices such as mobile and portable end user terminals with a wide variation of hardware software configurations this year the workshop was held in zhenjiang jiangsu china we received 194 high quality papers from 11 regions namely pr china korea singapore japan united states canada australia germany taiwan italy and hong kong totally 62 papers were accepted and presented in the workshop based on recently declassified documents this book provides the first examination of the truman administration s decision to employ covert operations in the cold war although covert operations were an integral part of america s arsenal during the late 1940s and early 1950s the majority of these operations were ill conceived unrealistic and ultimately doomed to failure in this volume the author looks at three central questions why were these types of operations adopted why were they conducted in such a haphazard manner and why once it became clear that they were not working did the administration fail to abandon them the book argues that the truman administration was unable to reconcile policy strategy and operations successfully and to agree on a consistent course of action for waging the cold war this ensured that they wasted time and effort money and manpower on covert operations designed to challenge soviet hegemony which had little or no real chance of success us covert operations and cold war strategy will be of great interest to students of us foreign policy cold war history intelligence and international history in general
