the services and resources in this book reflect the iona community's commitment to the belief that worship is all that we are and all that we do both inside and outside the church with no division into the sacred and the secular the material draws on many traditions including the celtic and aims to help us to be fully present to god in our neighbour in the political and social activity of the world around us and in the very centre and soul of our being the lord's prayer unites christians of all traditions it is the first and perhaps only prayer that people learn by heart however its patriarchal and kingdom imagery do not resonate universally today how do we pray the prayer jesus taught us in ways which are authentic and life giving this volume emerging from years of praying the lord's prayer offers a series of prayers and poems written in response to it they wrestle with its central images and bring our own stories and relationships into dialogue with it each prayer uses the address abba or amma aramaic terms of intimate address to god as father or mother which reflect jesus usage drawing on the abbas and ammas of the desert tradition as well as our own parental relationships it aims to integrate our whole human journey into the vocation of being a follower of jesus an extended introduction explores why praying the lord s prayer is significant how it is problematic and how contemporary theological reinterpretations offer fresh perspective on it this attractively simple prayer book reflects the distinctive celtic character of daily worship at iona abbey outlines are given for morning midday and evening prayer for every day of the week each day having its own theme what was jesus of nazareth really like what effect did he have on those he met and befriended how did he impart his teachings and perform his miracles these are the questions that james harpur explores through joseph of arimathea one of the most enigm
